

Ruff Diamond French Bulldogs Deposit Contract

All puppies require a $500 deposit and a subsequent invoice will be emailed to you. Deposits may be made in the following forms of legal tender including personal check, US postal money order or via credit card through PayPal. Please keep in mind any PayPal payments will include the 3.5% (USD or 4% Canadian) PayPal convenience charge.

All deposits are non refundable so please make sure you have thoroughly thought through this decision. If you decide you cannot afford one of our pups after your deposit or if you find a pup cheaper you will not receive your deposit back.

Any forfeited deposit may be applied to a future puppy up to 12 months from the date of deposit. After 12 months the deposit is completely forfeited. Rollover deposits can be applied to a puppy of your choice, behind already placed deposits. However we will not bump an already reserved puppy.

A puppy is considered reserved upon receipt of this signed agreement and the required deposit.

All shipping costs are the responsibility of the buyer. Depending on weather, age of puppy and airline used, prices range from $250 to $300. This includes the crate and the health certificate necessary for airline. The normal shipping charges for a French Bulldog puppy to be $280-$300 all inclusive.

Balance in full is due at 7 weeks of age for all puppies being shipped so that we have time to make flight arrangements. This requires a trip to the vet for the health certificate, finding a crate, and flight arrangements. We try to accommodate everyone's shipping needs however we rely on the airline and their schedule.

Full payment is required in certified funds. These methods include US postal money orders or PayPal (add the convenience fee).

If you are picking your puppy up in person we only except cash. Please understand we will not accept a personal check or money order at that time no exceptions. If you would like to use PayPal for the purchase of your puppy and you are picking the puppy up in person, you will need to pay in full at 7 weeks.

Please mail back your signed copy of this contract along with your deposit. This document ensures your deposit will be credited to the correct puppy. Please contact us for mailing address.
